Girl Found In Cellar Of Own Home, In Hospital

Wellesley (AP) – Miss Sylvia Plath, 20, Smith College student discovered in the cellar of her home yesterday after a 40-hour police search, was reported in good condition at Wellesley-Newton [Newton] Hospital today where she is recovering from an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Hidden By Wood

The girl was found yesterday lying in a cellar-like recess beneath [beneath] the porch of her home, hidden by a pile of kindling wood.

An empty water jar and a bottle [bottle] containing eight sleeping pills was found by her side. The bottle [bottle] had contained 48 pills, police said, when it was taken from the home.

A search began Monday when the girl's mother, Mrs. Aurelia S. Plath, a Boston University professor [professor], told police her daughter had vanished after leaving a note that she was taking a hike.
