Beginning next MONDAY, Aug. 21, we want to hand you a barrel of money!

All you have to do—and that means ALL—is to examine every dollar bill you own and check its serial number with lists of serial numbers published by the three Boston Herald newspapers.

AND IF A SERIAL NUM-

BER ON ONE OF YOUR DOLLAR BILLS IS IDENTICAL WITH ANY OF THE SERIAL NUMBERS PUBLISHED BY THE RECORD-AMERICAN-SUNDAY ADVERTISER, YOU ARE IN THE MONEY! YOU HAVE FOUND A LUCKY BUCK!

What will it be worth to you? PLENTY!

Daily, from Monday through Friday, we will list the cash-in value to YOU of each LUCKY BUCK. Two of them will be worth $100 each, according to their serial numbers. Three others will get you $50 each and 10 others will be worth $25 each.

Serial numbers of 10 one-dollar bills published weekly in the Sunday Advertiser will designate one bill worth $200! Another will be given a $100 value, still another $50 and seven more, $25 each.

You will be given one week after each serial number is published to bring in or send your LUCKY BUCK to us and get your gold-strike.

We are NOT going to hide these LUCKY BUCKS in obscure places! WE WILL PUT THEM INTO CIRCULATION BEFORE THE TREASURE HUNT GETS UNDER WAY, NEXT MONDAY! They may come to you from many channels: stores, restaurants, payrolls, railroad stations, subway stands, filling stations and many other sources.

Here are some facts to remember:

The Treasure Hunt will be touched off in the Boston Daily Record, Aug. 31. The Record will list the serial numbers of nine one-dollar bills and designate their value to YOU. That same day, the BOSTON AMERICAN will not only reprint these nine serial numbers—but add six new numbers.

The following day, the Record will publish nine more new serial numbers and add the serial numbers of all LUCKY BUCKS not thus redeemed, possibly all 15. The American will publish six new numbers and all unredeemed numbers. And so it will go, snow-balling your chances to win a prize!

Although no new serial numbers will be published Saturdays there will be printed each Saturday a complete list of ALL LUCKY BUCKS not redeemed!

The Sunday Advertiser not only will print 10 new serial numbers each week but will republish the serial numbers of unredeemed LUCKY BUCKS.

And remember—YOU CAN WIN MORE THAN ONCE! You can win EVERY TIME you find you have a LUCKY BUCK!

Recovered Gun Held Clue to Noel Killing

HOLYOKE—A .38 caliber revolver stolen from a Springfield filling station and recovered in Woonsocket, R. I., may hold the clue to the slayer of Henry H. Noel, Republican leader in his home a week ago, authorities believed yesterday.

The gun is now being examined by State Police ballistics experts to determine if it is the one which the handit used to shoot Noel down before the eyes of his wife in the hallway of his home.

The .38, along with a .32, was stolen the morning Noel was murdered. The .32 was discovered in the possession of Guy R. Lanoue, 23, of Pearl st., Springfield, who is being held in Springfield for a drugstore robbery.

Police say that Lanoue admitted the break and told them he gave the .38 to a man in Woonsocket, R. I. Woonsocket police recovered the gun and are holding a suspect there on various local charges.

Meanwhile, the City of Holyoke offered a $1000 reward for information leading to the detection and apprehension of Noel's slayer. The reward is the maximum allowed under the law.

500 Polio Case Kin Given Drug

Approximately 500 members of Massachusetts families have been given injections of gamma globulin after being exposed to polio, Dr. Roy Femster, director of the Massachusetts Division of Communicable Diseases, reported yesterday. These are immediate members of the families of victims—the only ones to receive the serum.

Dr. Femster also disclosed that 12 new cases were reported over the weekend throughout the state, bringing the year's total to 183, eight cases fewer than in the same period last year. A total of 91 cases has been reported thus far in August, as compared to 146 cases last year.

Results of the inoculations will not be known for some time, Dr. Femster said, and will then be reported on a national valuation basis.

Polio claimed its third victim in Duxbury yesterday, the 17th in Plymouth county during the year, when Edward Wadsworth, nine, of Stetson ave., was stricken. The total in Norfolk County thus far is 38, including two fatal cases.

In Providence, no cases of polio have been reported among the more than 50 children who were given gamma globulin inoculations by the state health department at a mass test at a Coventry, R. I., day camp three weeks ago. The inoculations were given after a boy at the camp contracted a mild case.

RABBI STRANGLER IN LEBANON HOME

JERUSALEM (INS)—The Jerusalem radio reported last night that the Grand Rabbi of Lebanon was found slain in his home. The broadcast said he appeared to have been strangled.

Aided by a State Police bloodhound, police and nearly 100 volunteers concentrated their search for the literary scholar in a wooded area near her home and in the vicinity of Lake Waban and Morse's Pond, Wellesley.

The girl disappeared after leaving her mother, Mrs. Aurelia S. Plath, a Boston University professor, a note which read: "am going for a hike and will be back tomorrow."

The bloodhound, brought from the State Police barracks in Andover, was hampered in picking up the girl's trail due to the heavy rains that fell Monday night.

State Police said a bottle containing about 50 sleeping pills was missing from the girl's room and it was believed she may have taken them with her when she left home.

Among relatives and volunteers taking part in the hunt for the student, who topped her class scholastically last year, was a close family friend, Col. Rex Gary, a former Army intelligence officer.

The missing student, daughter of the late B. U. Prof. Otto Plath, had been under a doctor's care for several months due to a nervous condition induced by her intense application to literary work. She won two college poetry awards and had stories and poems published in several top magazines.

Luciano No Aid to Police

NAPLES (INS)—Naples police drew a blank when they tried to enlist the aid of Charles "Lucky" Luciano to prevent a possible gang war.

The police picked up the former New York vice lord for what they called protective questioning and asked him to put his finger on Vito Rocco Vitali as one of the men who recently slapped and tried to beat him up.

Luciano shrugged his shoulders and said he could not identify Vitali as one of his assailants. Luciano was then released. Vitali was described as a notorious dope ring chief.

AHERN QUITS RACE FOR CITY COUNCIL

A threat of potential confusion for voters in the municipal primaries was removed yesterday when longshoreman Francis X. Ahern of Main st., Charlestown, withdrew from the Sept. 10 race for city council. Except for the lack of one letter in his last name, Ahern's name was identical with that of City Council President Francis X. Ahern, candidate for re-election.

'DEAF' BEGGAR HEARS 'FINE'

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit beggar with $5000 turned a deaf ear on most of his arraignment before Judge W. McKay Skillman—what he heard he didn't like.

The beggar, arrested at a downtown corner, had $237 in his pockets and a bankbook showing a balance of $4700.

"Where did you get the money?" the judge asked. "I'm deaf, I can't hear you," the beggar responded.

"Where did you get this money?" the judge shouted. "I can't hear you," the beggar repeated.

"I'll fine you $150," Judge Skillman muttered. "I won't pay it," the beggar shouted. Judge Skillman sentenced the panhandler to 90 days.
